The Westward Movement and Early California ~ Focusing on life in the old west, the journey across the Prairies' in a covered wagon, California Missions, and life prior to and during the Gold Rush. Students will spend time with Nancy Kelsey re-enactor who uses quilt squares like pages from a journal to share about her trip out west in the first covered wagon train to California in 1841; They will visit a one-room school house to find out what it was like to study in a multi-grade level setting, as well as attend a scavenger hunt to explore the Mission models and find answer to questions about the missions.
