Student Parent Regional Educational Events

Coming~October 14th from 10am-1pm

How to Raise a HERO: A virtual event for our parent educators led by Michelle Sullivan.

Do your kids struggle explaining math in words? If you ask them how they arrived at an answer, could they verbally explain it and then write out their steps? If the struggle is as daunting as Kryptonite is to Superman, number talks are your solution! Learn how you can embrace a winning approach with math in an engaging, entertaining, and adventurous approach. We will also discuss the latest trends and research with Generation Z and explore valiant parental and educational tips that will all contribute to raising a hero.

Register online by Wednesday, September 23rd, to receive the updates and necessary links to attend our online event. Hero packages with goodies will be mailed to our families with elementary –aged children on a first come, first serve basis so don't delay, register today!
