The Museum of Tolerance encourages students to contemplate the effects of intolerance with interactive exhibits on the Holocaust as well as present day discrimination.

Witness history as you journey within a 3 hour guided tour of the Holocaust exhibit where students engage in state-of-the-exhibits that will inspire them to learn from the past, engage in the present, and assume responsibility for the future.

Finding Our Families, Finding Ourselves is a journey into the past to discover the challenges faced by immigrants travelling to the U.S. in the 19th and 20th centuries. By hearing the family stories of noted celebrities, students realize the importance of speaking to relatives about their family history and are encouraged to identify their own mentors and role-models.

During this program, students:

Tour the inspirational multimedia exhibit, Finding Our Families, Finding Ourselves -

- Participate in a Quilt Activity identifying multicultural artifacts and discussing the importance of diversity acceptance and understanding

- Research their own family heritage through an introductory activity in the computer lab.
